[EXTERNAL: This email originated from outside of the organization.]

Steve,

The following follow up questions have been prepared based on the reports authored by the opposing side.

- Did you enter the room where the fire originated
- If so how far in? Was anything in the closet on fire at the time you entered the room the first time?
- Could you see the laptop in question from the doorway?
- When you went back to the room with the fire extinguisher how far into the room did you enter?
- What was the position of the armoire doors. Fully open?
- Was anything in the closet on fire at this time
- What was stored in the closet?
- Can you draw a picture of the shelving and clothing rods if the existed?
- Whats stored on the shelves?
- Were any clothes hanging on hangers
- Was anything stored on the floor in the closet, if so what?
- Please describe the compact computer from the 90's?
- How long was the computer stored in the closet?
- When was the last time this computer was used?
- Was the compact computer in the closet charging?
- Did you see any fire at the furnace while passing that room in the hallway at any point before exiting the property
